BlackEye Download: (PHP and MSSQL Execute) Free Download.Q: Accelerate a Web App using SQL Azure I am looking into the implementation of Azure in a WPF web app, however I am unsure of how to efficiently cache (or store content) the data in the Cloud, but also be able to use SQL Azure Data Access (for CRUD etc). So my main question is: Does SQL Azure support the ability to 1) Retrieve/save a record in SQL? 2) Stored Procedures? 3) Caching data? 4) Cache the data in any way, so that I can then access the data at any point of time without going back to the DB first? A: SQL Azure has supported everything you requested since it's released. You can read more about it here: SQL Azure Data Access \(SQL Azure Database for Windows Azure Web Sites\) SQL Azure - Developer Center For a little more detail, you can view a definition of a SQL Azure service from the article below, which can help you understand the general architecture of SQL Azure as well as how each service works: SQL Azure Architecture \(Part 1\) SQL Azure Architecture \(Part 2\) A: This is a bit old, but this is the correct answer. You can store objects in a SQL Azure DB with Entity Framework. Object Model Database Accessing DbContext & EF A: Yes you can cache data in SQL Azure using the custom table types or managed cache. You can also store key value pairs in database tables to optimize your storage. Q: Style sheet based on the device width I'm trying to make a style sheet that works on different screen sizes. (width-767) and (480) I've added this CSS code: @media only screen and (min-width: 767px) and (max-width: 1280px) I also would like to use that code on different devices. How can I make it possible? A: I think you are looking for media query @media screen and (min-width: 481px), screen and (max-width:
