This unique technology is incorporated into Players and Teams as motion animations, both in single player and multiplayer modes. In single player mode, the “Motion Moments” feature also introduces AI to add further depth to the match. The AI will follow a basic, off-ball, tactical movement plan. The player will move to a new position and find the best way to receive the ball. If this player finds himself outside of the player’s basic movement plan, the AI will initiate an individual run to receive the ball. The “Automated Tackles” feature makes tackling faster, more accurate and more of a reflex action. In this new FIFA title, tackling will be an instinctual, subconscious action, giving players a natural reaction during the tackle. “New This Year” will offer new, compelling player models featuring further improvements to animation, lighting and special effects. The visual engine has also been tuned to increase visual clarity and performance, which will improve the overall experience. If you watch video footage taken from the game mode on various video platforms, you can see the improvements in real-time. This video is very much a work in progress as you can see on the video the player models and animations are being refined. EA Sports FIFA 20 will be available on the PlayStation 4, Xbox One, and PC (via Origin) on March 23, 2019.
